A SMOOTH START

With four rounds completed in the State League and three rounds in the other senior sections, we can take stock of the opening of Season 1958 — one which, we feel, is the best for many seasons. A maximum of exciting games and a minimum of incidents — the type of incidents which are not good publicity.

IN the State League, Slavia have shown once again that they are a most unpredictable side, and must receive the greatest respect from their opponents.

Hakoah provided a bombshell by notching 12 goals against George Cross, and could have scored more, according to the spectators present. The score is hard to believe, following the good start made by George Cross.

Juventus appear to be the danger team, with their fast play, and could top the League ladder.

Moreland, despite five injuries, appear to be settling down, but Hellenic and Brighton followers must be shaking their heads. However, with 22 matches to play this season as against the former 18, time is on their side.

Many complaints have been received from First Division North and South sections that their publicity can be summed up in one word — NIL.

We can assure our public that the broadcasting stations on Fridays and Saturdays will supply their quota of information, but we can only rely on the goodwill of the daily press to remember that the State League is not the only League playing in Melbourne.

We are also certain that if any team other than the State teams misbehaves, the daily press will then supply the publicity — the only snag being that it will be the wrong type.

Farewell to a Gallant Captain

There is little to be written about Peter Vidovic that Soccer fans in this State already don't know. However, it seems there is a very real chance that the tireless skipper of the Yugoslav team may soon disappear from the game completely.

IN a match played against Hakoah at Olympic Park three weeks ago, Peter met with his Waterloo when he sustained a fractured shin bone on his left leg.

If this is so, Soccer in this State must suffer a great loss. Not only his own Club, J.U.S.T., but also the State team that he served so often and so well.

With the background of first-class Soccer in Yugoslavia and Europe, Peter took very little time to hit the headlines after his arrival in Australia.

Soccer followers in Victoria who have over the last seven years witnessed some of his splendid performances, probably find it hard to visualise just how good he must have been back home, for Peter was past his prime when he arrived here in 1950.

IDEAL MAN . . .

Captaining and playing for J.U.S.T. since its formation, he has won many friends and supporters not only amongst his countrymen, but among people all over Victoria, who enjoyed, like himself, the society of the round ball.

Although J.U.S.T. was the only Club for whom Vidovic has played, he was wanted by all Victorian Clubs. And on many occasions all the First Division Clubs had their chance to regret that they did not have his services.

Highlight of his Australian career was his game against the visiting Austrians, when he played centre-forward for an Australian Eleven against "Rapid S.C."

Be that as it may, Peter Vidovic's retirement from Soccer will be sorely missed by all Soccer players and spectators alike.

Let us only hope that his proposed retirement is prompted merely by the fact of his terrible non-playing misfortune at present, and that in a not-so-distant future we may see Peter do his part for the further advancement of the round ball code in this State.

For we can most sincerely say we haven't seen enough of this gallant player yet.

Players Suspended in S.A.

Please note that the following players have been suspended for life by the Board of Commissioners of the South Australian Association:

M. STEFANOVIC, of Beograd S.C., for refusing to kick-off after a goal had been scored against his side, disputing the referee's decisions, refusing to leave the field when ordered off, and for assaulting Referee F. R. Ward by kneeling him during the match, Juventus v. Beograd, on February 17, 1958.

E. VIRBA, Beograd S.C., for (1) unduly rough play; (2) abusing Referee Ward, by means of a threat; and (3) gross contempt of the B.O.C. by refusing to remain at the meeting to hear evidence either for or against him. This player was previously suspended indefinitely in Victoria, such suspension being subsequently lifted. Before being re-registered in this State, he was warned about his future conduct, but he has become a menace to the game, and it is better without him.

In the much-discussed Hakoah-J.U.S.T. match, goalkeeper van Egmond safely holds a cross, with Captain McIntosh (Hakoah) watching anxiously.

J.U.S.T.-Hakoah Fiasco

SIR,—In spite of the theatrical performance by the referee in the J.U.S.T.-Hakoah match at Olympic Park prior to the kick-off, the game promised to be an enjoyable one from a spectator's point of view.

Referees, we know, are often unjustly abused by ardent supporters, but on this particular occasion no one else could be blamed for the marring of a good game.

Referees are expected to assert their authority, but this must be done during the WHOLE of the game. By overlooking fouls committed early in the match, and then heavily penalising a player later for the same foul, a referee only antagonises both players and spectators.

During the 1957 season, I deplored the demonstrations of spectators on many occasions, but can only foresee a recurrence of these demonstrations with refereeing such as we witnessed on April 5. This would seem rather a pity because I don't think anyone really enjoys these fiascos, so let us hope that this instance will be the first and the last for 1958—Yours, etc.,

"IRATE SPECTATOR."

Referee in Difficulties?

SIR,—Much may be said and written about the unfortunate occurrence at Olympic Park last Saturday week.

Admittedly, it was not by any means a display of good sportsmanship any spectator and follower of soccer expects to witness. But let's not only condemn the behaviour of the individual players concerned, and have some of the light reflected on the "man in charge," namely, the referee.

As it was apparent the said official obviously had great difficulty in observing the signalling of the linesman on the grandstand side, owing to the handicap of having to look into the rays of the setting sun: but this cannot be said of his other aide, and what did he see?

It is understood and appreciated that anyone would have to be a Mandrake to observe everything going on during the duration of any match; but it should not be tolerated (from any of the controlling bodies concerned) that refereeing may result in establishing a dictatorship by claiming infallibility, being the sole "boss" and be given a status of tabu.

Occurrences like these are very bad publicity, and should meet with rigorous measures. Also, it should be a MUST for the controlling bodies to do their utmost to prevent such happenings.

I am only expressing the views of a couple of followers of the sport after having witnessed the game referred to, and in my own opinion; and no criticism or insult is directed against the person of Mr. McCarthy himself.—Yours, etc.,

GEORGE WIPPLER.

George Cross Player's Prospects

SIR,—I was delighted to see the left full-back who played for George Cross Reserves against Slavia. I hope someone has taken notice of this player's long clearances with both feet. His nice and steady headings and the way he covers his centre-half make him a promising player. Good luck, son! You are on the right track to top-class football.—Yours, etc.,

"AMATEUR."

[Whoever you may be, we endorse the writer's sentiments and wish you good luck: Ed.]

BRITISH FOOTBALL

The British football season draws to its close, and soon we shall be having the pools operating on Australian fixtures; but for the next few weeks U.K. points and positions will have their importance. Fixtures for Saturday, April 19, provide some interesting games, and, of course, games that are tough to forecast.

TOP of the list is the Scotland v. England game at Hampden Park. Always considered the international match of the year, this meeting will draw its full house once more, and the intense enthusiasm that usually goes with this meeting will be much in evidence, and as the teams take the field the famous "Hampden roar" will be heard.

Wolves, now sure of the championship, are at home to their nearest rivals, Preston, and they should win, but Preston will keep them busy. It must be remembered that Wolves only beat the lowly placed Portsmouth by a solitary goal at Wolverhampton last Saturday, and they may now be feeling the strain of their championship race.

The position at the bottom of the Division 1 table is still a little obscure. It does seem as if Sheffield Wednesday are doomed to go into the Second Division next season; but the matter of the team to accompany them is still in doubt.

Candidates for this unenviable position are Sunderland, with 28 points from 38 games; Newcastle, with 27 points from 35 games; and Leicester, with 29 points from 37 games. Will Sunderland go down? Should they do so, it will be the first time ever for them to be out of Division 1.

Wednesday meet Aston Villa at Birmingham, Sunderland are at home to Notts Forest, and Newcastle meet F.A. Cup finalists, Bolton Wanderers. Tough propositions for each team.

West Ham seem assured of the championship of Division 2, but they could slip up. However, there is keen competition for second position and its resultant promotion. Charlton, Liverpool, Blackburn and Fulham are all possible chances, and the position may not be clarified until the final day.

West Ham are at home to Liverpool on the 19th, and this game should be a real thriller. Charlton visit Ipswich, and will strike tough opposition there. Fulham, at home to Bristol City, should win, and Blackburn should down Leyton at Blackburn.

At the bottom of the table, Lincoln, Doncaster, Swansea and Notts County are in the danger zone, and here again the issue may not be decided until the final day.

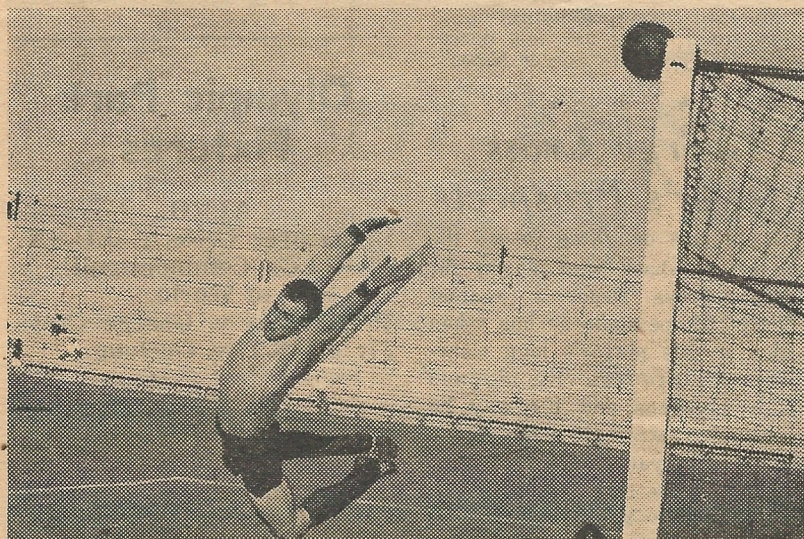

The fight for promotion in the Third Division (South) is still very close, with Plymouth and Brighton on 52 points, Reading on 51 and Brentford on 50. (Points here are those up to and including April 5.)

Yes, the Third Division (South) is very open.

The Northern section looks like going to Scunthorpe, with 54 points, but Bury and Accrington, with 50, are close enough to offer a threat.

Under new condition there will be a Third Division and a Fourth Division next year, and the teams in the lower half of each of the sections of the present Third Division will form the new Fourth. What a fight there is in this section!

Hearts seem sure of the Scottish League championship, but the position of runner-up is still open.

Australia's No. 1 goalkeeper, Joe Ruyters (J.S.U.S., ex-Wilhelmina), shows his class by finger-tipping a hot shot over the bar from a Hakoah forward. This was one of many fine saves.

CO-OPERATION
WANTED

IN this, our third edition of "Soccer News," may we once again ask for the co-operation of all Clubs and supporters to provide articles of interest.

It is not with pleasure that we announce that only 15 referees out of 47 forwarded their reports to the Association by the first mail on Monday morning.

Two Clubs, from a total of 62, provided teams for the following week's matches.

We also looked in vain for "Letters to the Editor."

So let's snap out of the apathy which appears to exist, and endeavour to make our magazine the No. 1 Soccer publication in Australia.

CLUB NEWS

Teams for Today

Moreland Club has secured the services of Sam Penlerick as trainer, and he is doing a great job in getting injured players fit again. D. Godding hopes to be in training this week, but it will be a few weeks before Don Hodgson is fit after two broken ribs.

Any Irish player desirous of playing for Ireland should contact Sam Horrobin at 93 Emmaline St., Northcote; or Frank Laughran, 10 Verdon St., Maidstone.

Brighton's defence is on the improve, but the forward line is still weak. Stansfield is still a bit short of a run; but Honan is a very cool player, and took a penalty kick which gave the keeper no chance.

South Yarra's goalie is now known as the "Penalty King." Two failures against him already this year, whilst last year only one out of five passed.

South Melbourne United need a centre-forward badly. Many opportunities were missed last week. Don Jordon will probably be tried in this position, as he kicked 10 goals in three games with the Reserve team this year.

With the taste of victory, Park Rangers are keen to meet Dandenong. Mr. Jack Pirrie (ex-Falkirk), coach, is now getting results, and the team is blending better.

Melbourne Club report that the refereeing in its last game was excellent — one of the best seen this season.

Jos Bierman, Frankston's best and fairest player last season, who recently joined the Navy, has been appointed captain of the Navy team.

In the Williamstown 1 v. Williams-town 3 game there was only one free kick awarded. Is this a record?

Bayswater has elected Klaus Imberger its new captain. He has been playing for Bayswater since 16 years of age.

Sandringham City was weakened by an injury to star defender, Jack Hyndman, but he should be fit again shortly. Rick Jennings had his first game for two years.

Chris. Keiren, of Preston Club, had the misfortune to fracture his wrist in the first game of the season, and will be on the sidelines for a spell.

The Rootes-Austria game got very rough in the second half, and four of the Rootes team were injured.
